

Games

"Treasure Hunt" Quiz: a regular quiz in which a few questions are marked as "treasures"...if a quizzier answers a treasure question correctly, they receive a prize...they do not know in advance which questions are treasure questions

Money Quiz: a regular quiz in which correct answers are rewarded monetarily based on point value; another variation is like a treasure quiz but use a $1 coin as the prize

Candy Quiz: like the treasure hunt quiz only uses candy as the prize

Tic-Tac-Toe: 2 teams; play like regular tic-tac-toe except each square is a question with point values as follows...center = 30, corners = 20, rest = 10

"Step Ahead": line up shoulder to shoulder, each quizzier on a floor tile; each is asked a question...right answer means can step ahead one tile...closer to finish line, the harder the questions...first to finish line wins

Bean Bag Toss: toss bean bags to get 10-20-30 point question...highest score wins

Quote Bean Bag Toss: toss bean bag...if lands in bucket, quizzier gets to pick verse to quote...if miss, coach picks verse to quote

Dart Game: same as bean bag toss, but uses nerf dart gun

Spinner Game: use a spinner to get type of question (direct, two-part, three-part, quotation, quotation completion, cross reference)

Spinner Game 2: use a spinner to get point value of each question (10 - 20- 30)

Baseball: like Bible baseball, except single is direct question, double is two-part question, triple is three-part question, and home run is cross reference question

Stop the Pirates: draw 5 treasure chests on island and 5 waves near ship; two teams, Pirates and Guards; correct answer by Guards buries a treasure; correct answer by Pirates erases a wave; first team to either bury all treasures or erase all waves wins

Football: two teams; ball is on 50 yard line; correct answer moves ball toward team's goal; first team to make it to goal line wins